Law 181 Communications Law will be offered at the Law School during the Fall 2009 semester, and graduate students enrolled in the Master of Arts in Telecommunications program or the Master of Science in Telecommunications at George Mason University are eligible to enroll in the course. Communications Law is a three credit hour course which covers basic telecommunications policy and regulation.

Course Meeting/Exam Information

Law 181-001 meets on Tuesday and Thursday from 2:00 pm – 3:15 pm at the Arlington Campus, Room 224 Arlington 1 Building. The course instructor is Professor Lisa Sockett. The first class meeting is on Thursday, August 20, and the last class meeting is on Tuesday, December 1.

The date of the final exam is December 8 at 12:00 pm. The Law School uses an anonymous grading system and students use an assigned exam number. Students can pick up their exam numbers at the Law Records Office on the day of their exam.

Registration

Enrollment in the course will be granted on a space available basis, however, we are generally able to honor all requests for enrollment. If you plan to request enrollment in Law 181, you need to complete the attached registration form and mail it to the Law Records Office, George Mason University School of Law, 3301 Fairfax Drive, Arlington, VA 22201. Registration forms must be received by August 20, 2009. Registration forms may also be faxed to the Law Records Office at 703-993-8019.

After August 20, students who wish to enroll in Law 181 must register in person at the Law School Records Office (Room 341) after first obtaining written permission from the professor.

Registration cannot be accomplished at the Fairfax Campus Registrar's Office or through the Patriotweb registration system.

Withdrawal and the Tuition Refund/Liability Policy

All requests to drop or withdraw from the course must be submitted in writing to the Law School Records Office. Requests to withdraw or drop this course cannot be processed through the Registrar's office in Fairfax.

The University's add/drop policy for graduate school will apply to those students taking Law 181. Please check the graduate catalog or with your dean's office to determine applicable dates and tuition refund/liability policies.

Reading Assignment
A textbook assignment and any reading assignment for the first class meeting will be posted on the Law School's web site at www.law.gmu.edu. The Law School bookstore will also be given a list of the required texts for the course.

Parking Decals and Bookstore Information

Fairfax Campus parking decals are not valid at the Arlington Campus. You must contact Parking Services (993-8146) to arrange an exchange for an Arlington Campus decal. The Arlington Campus decal will be valid for use at both campuses.

The bookstore is located on the first floor of the academic building at the Arlington Campus. For information on bookstore hours, call 993-8170.

Submission of Grades

The Law School grading policy allows professors 30 days from the date of their exam in which to turn in grades. This is considerably different from other courses Telecommunication students may have taken at the Fairfax campus. Students are encouraged to check their reported grades using Patriotweb. The Law School Records office has no way of knowing when a professor will submit grades following an exam.

It is important for Telecommunications students to be aware that by registering for a course at the Law School, they are responsible for being informed about Law School policies regarding registration, class attendance, examinations and grades. Most will find that the operations of the law school will differ significantly from their previous educational experiences. Should you have any questions about Law 181, you may call the Law School Records Office at 993-8015 or Telecommunications Dept at 993-8100 or 993-3810.
